

Damage Suit Taken Under Advisement; Arguments Closed

Amended Complaint Due in Case; Site Listed is Legally Wrong

Legal arguments in the damage suit in which A. H. Hanneken, local attorney, seeks compensation for injuries suffered when he fell through an open sidewalk basement entrance last July ended yesterday when Judge George C. Dixon, presiding in Circuit court here, took the case under advisement after ordering the plaintiff to submit an amended complaint.

Judge Dixon ruled that, under the city ordinances, the description of the location, as given in the complaint, is illegal, wrong and contrary to the provisions of the ordinances.

Correct the Location

The complaint filed by Hanneken, through his attorneys, Dixon, Devine, Bracken & Dixon, described the site of the accident as near the intersection of West First street and South Galena avenue. Citing city ordinances, Judge Dixon ruled it was improper to use the prefixes West and South, since the ordinances provide that only the prefix North shall be used for those avenues north of the river and the prefix East for those streets east of Galena avenue. As a result, the plaintiff will amend the complaint to describe the location as near Galena avenue and First street, in conformance with the ordinances.

Charge Insufficient Cause

Attorneys for the defendants in the case had previously filed motions to strike Hanneken's complaint on the grounds that the claim did not show sufficient cause for legal action.

Hanneken's complaint, naming as defendants the city of Dixon, Joseph and Jennie Eichler and Corrine Miller, owners of the building into the basement of which he fell, and Felchner Spotts, who was alleged to have opened the sidewalk entrance to remove ashes from the building, charging negligence in guarding the safety of pedestrians on the sidewalks here. The complaint sets forth that Hanneken suffered broken bones in his feet, legs and hips as a result of the fall, listed $2,000 hospitalization and $15,000 doctor, nursing and medical fees which allegedly resulted from the fall.

Attorneys for the defendants, each seeking to evade liability for the incident, argued the question of which defendants were liable for the situation existing at the time, and whether it was solely the city's, the property owners' or Spotts' responsibility.

Representing the city of Dixon was Gerald Jones, while H. C. Warner and the Chicago firm of Vogel and Bunge represented Joseph and Jennie Eichler and Corrine Miller, the property owners. Spotts was represented by Edwin W. Merrick.

The accident occurred July 10, 1945, in front of the Eichler building near the southwest corner of First street and Galena avenue.

Calls on Members of Group for Complete Effort for Success

James E. Bales, local attorney recently returned from naval service, was elected chairman of the Lee county Young Republicans organization at a meeting last night in the Courthouse here, and immediately called upon the group's members to give their efforts and cooperation for the success of the organization.

Chosen as co-chairman of the organization, was Miss Winnogene Knapp, well known in local circles, who will work with Bales in the direction of the Lee county group.

Bales, declaring that the success of an organization depends upon the cooperation and effort of every member of the group, asked Lee county Republicans to make suggestions which they felt might aid the party here.

Wants More Members

"I would like to see an increase in the membership of the Young Republican organization," he said. "We want every laborer, farmer, housewife, business and professional man and woman throughout the county, who so desires, to take an active interest in the organization."

Pointing out that many veterans of World War I are now back in Lee county homes, Bales invited them to take an active interest in the group's activities. He also called upon all citizens, regardless of party affiliations, to use their right to vote.

"Every citizen in the United States has the right to vote."

Damage Suit by OPA Filed Against Singer's

Kansas City, March 28—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration filed suit in Federal court today asking damages of $1,125,000 from the Singer Sewing Machine company for alleged violations of maximum price regulations.

The complaint, filed by Dick Bennett, OPA district enforcement attorney, charged the company had violated price ceiling regulations and had forced purchasers of sewing machines to buy other commodities, contrary to restrictions against tie-in sales. The petition said violations complained of had occurred throughout the United States.

Specifically, the complaint charged the company sold used sewing machines at new machine ceiling prices.

At New York, an executive of the company said no statement would be issued immediately and further comment was withheld.

The OPA said a survey of regional outlets showed actual overcharges of $375,000 in sale of used sewing machines between July 1, 1945, and Feb. 23, 1946.

Aurora Borealis Cuts Off Weather Forecasts

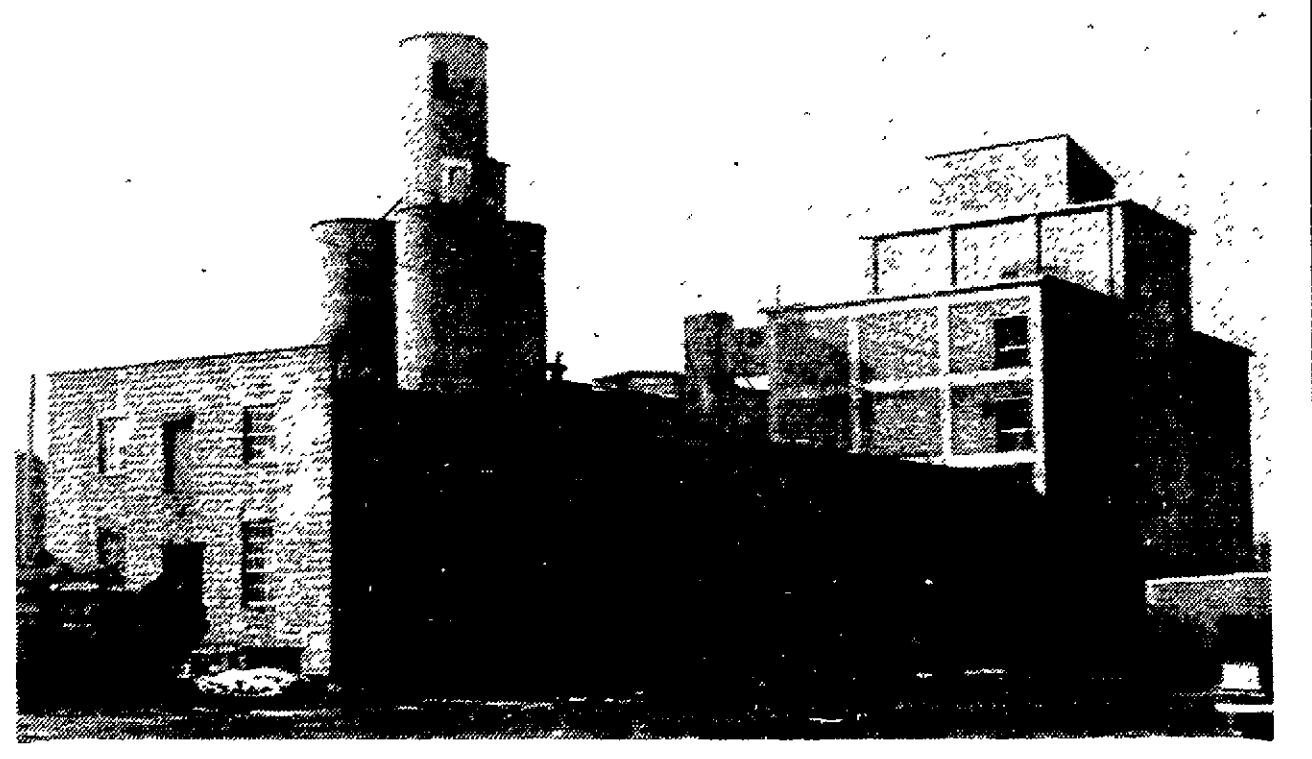

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—The Aurora Borealis had the weather bureau forecasters tearing their hair instead of drawing their customarily accurate weather maps today.

They admitted there was warm pleasant weather over much of the nation except for gulf region thunder showers, but beyond that they said they couldn't be very specific.

It seems Aurora Borealis knocked out teletypes and telegraph facilities to such an extent that fewer than 125 station reports, from which weather maps are prepared, were received, compared with a normal of about 400.

The installation of machinery, of which a great quantity is necessary for the operation, will proceed as rapidly as possible and further development of the capacity of the mill will take place as equipment is available.

The property acquired by the Dixon Mills, Inc., was owned by Roberts & Hess, who have transferred their interests to the new owners. The plant is ideally arranged for the use of its new owners will make of it and can produce huge quantities of stock feed in the most modern and scientific manner. Its products will be of the highest standard and will be a welcome addition to the nation's supply of this greatly needed article.

Seizure of Strike-Bound Farm Tools Plants is Probable

Operation of California Canneries May Also Be Taken Over

(By The Associated Press)

The possibility of government seizure of strike-bound farm equipment plants and idle California canneries and of federal attempts to compromise the deadlocked coal negotiations arose today.

Labor department officials, who prefer to remain anonymous, said disputes involving the farm equipment plants and the California canneries would be placed before Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach today or tomorrow.

The California canneries, idled by a CIO-AFL jurisdictional dispute, produce about a third of the country's canned fruits and vegetables. The farm equipment strikes, involving 42,500 workers, have curtailed output of farm equipment which farmers need to meet record crop production goals.

Schwelmbach is known to oppose government seizure, but his conciliators told reporters they have abandoned hope of settling the cannery dispute. Schwelmbach and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson jointly invited the presidents of the strike-bound International Harvester, J. I. Case and Allis-Chalmers Companies to confer on the situation in Washington Friday.

The invitation followed collapse of federal conciliation efforts in the Harvester case.

Coal Strike Expected

In the coal dispute, where a work stoppage of 400,000 United Mine Workers has been set for Sunday midnight, labor department officials indicated privately they were virtually resigned to a shutdown of at least one week.

Those close to the negotiations expect the government to make an effort at compromising the negotiations if the deadlock is not broken by this week end.

Other developments along the labor front where some 460,000 are idle because of strikes:

Prospects dimmed for an early settlement of a 48 day old strike of nearly 3,000 CIO miners at the

'Pencil Waving' in Capital Condemned

Washington, March 28—(AP)—An Indiana representative of the National Livestock Exchange told the house agriculture committee today "there are so many OPA orders the farmers aren't paying much attention to any of them."

"You can't regulate an economy by waving around a lead pencil down here," said C. L. Farrington, Indianapolis. "Farmers are rebellious because meat is cheaper than other foods in comparison. The farmer does not want to be a doormat for an economy rising at his expense."

He asserted the situation "borders on persecution" at times.

"The worst thing about this whole OPA set-up," he told the committee, "is that it is breaking down the moral fibre of so many good people. The farmer has to have an excessive amount of fortitude and patriotism to ship his livestock to market when he can get more dollars at home. x x x The terminal market complying with the regulations sees more and more of its livestock by-passing the normal channels of trade, cannot help but wonder 'what's the use?' Should people and business be penalized for trying to live according to the law?"

The committee is investigating the meat situation.

Camp Ellis Is Made Permanent Home of State National Guard

Springfield, Ill., March 28—(AP)—Camp Ellis, an Army Service Forces unit training center during the war, has been designated by the war department as the postwar home of the Illinois National Guard, Adj. Gen. Leo M. Boyle announced yesterday.

Boyle said the war department had advised him the military reservation would be maintained under department control, however, for "future use by the U. S. Army."

When the National Guard is re-organized, the adjutant general said, 20,330 officers and enlisted men will be trained at Camp Ellis.

Reuther Has Big Plans for U.A.W. in Leader's Role

Atlantic City, N. J., March 28—(AP)—R. J. Thomas who was defeated for president of the auto workers union, was elected to one of the union's two vice-presidential posts today.

His victory was considered a setback for Walter Reuther, the new president, in his announced efforts to unify the U.A.W.-CIO.

Thomas defeated Melvin Bishop, of Detroit, backed by the Reuther group.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 28—Walter Reuther, newly-elected president of the CIO United Auto Workers, launched his big union toward new spheres of influence today.

Reuther defeated R. J. Thomas, president for seven years, for the leadership yesterday by the slim margin of 125 votes in a turbulent four-hour roll-call at the union convention, marked by fist-fighting and confusion. The official count was 4,445 to 4,320.

Another political fight bobbed up as Thomas accepted friends' urgings and decided to seek one of the two vice presidencies in today's elections.

Discusses Plans

Several other likely candidates withdrew, and Thomas' entry sidetracked a possibility that the offices might be uncontested.

Reuther told a news conference after his election that he would work toward:

1. Organizing farm equipment workers in a big way.
2. Industry-wide collective bargaining in the automotive industry based on equal pay for equal work.
3. A bigger, stronger and more unified union, developing responsibility in all plants so that workers would not strike unless authorized by the international union.
4. A guaranteed annual wage for the workers.
5. Organizing the white-collar

Soviets Refuse to Discuss Iran in U. N. O. Council Meet

New York, March 28—(AP)—Soviet Russia made it clear today that she would continue to take part in activities of the United Nations despite the dramatic withdrawal of Ambassador Andrei Gromyko yesterday, from discussions of the Iranian question.

First concrete evidence of this came this morning when Prof. Boris Stein, representing Russia, attended a meeting of the committee of experts which is working on rules of procedure for the security council.

At the same time a Soviet spokesman said that Russia would be represented at this afternoon's closed session of the council.

The Soviet ambassador himself was affable, but refused to comment.

Jap Petting Rule Hits All Ranks as Army Fines Men

Tokyo, March 28—(AP)—In Japan this spring the young American's fancy won't turn so lightly to thoughts of fraternization. The general said "no". The provost marshal is assessing a $10 fine for each public display of fancy turning.

Since Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger's ban on arm-in-arm strolling of U. S. soldiers and Japanese girls three days ago, the provost marshal's office has made 40 arrests. The Army quite stiffly declines to discuss its scale of fines, but they averaged $10.

The ban already is "effective, and will become more so," announced Brig. Gen. C. S. Ferrin, Tokyo provost marshal. "It definitely is beneficial. We don't want to hit our men too hard. If we find a soldier holding hands in public with a Japanese girl, we warn him and notify his company commander. But an unseemly public display, such as having an arm around a girl . . ."

The general shook his head.

The brass of rank is no protection, either. Ferrin himself, his mustache bristling, bounded from his office to accost an Army captain whose arm encircled the waist of a Japanese nurse.

And there was the case of the Navy lieutenant commander. . . .

Two military policemen were on their way to the movies when out of the gloom lurched what one described as "a kind of second Hunchback of Notre Dame". Putting duty ahead of the cinema, they investigated. It was the lieutenant commander, carrying a Japanese

Alleged Red Spy Seeks Legal Aid

Portland, Ore., March 28—(AP)—A Soviet naval officer accused of espionage turned today to legal advice as he prepared for a decision on whether to accept or fight roll-call to Seattle for trial.

Lt. Nicolai G. Redin, 29, arrested by the FBI Tuesday night on a warrant charging he induced an unnamed person to give him data on the destroyer tender U. S. S. Yellowstone, had the aid of Russia's top west coast representative to help him make the decision.

Redin spent his second night in jail under $25,000 bail but Soviet Consul-General Michael S. Vavilov, who flew here from San Francisco, said he would post the bail today unless Redin, member of the Soviet purchasing commission at Seattle, were released on his own recognizance.

The district attorney here said he gained the impression in a conference with Vavilov that the consul-general would recommend whatever action the attorney proposed—and he believed it likely that preliminary hearing would be waived.

The arrested Soviet officer's comment yesterday that the accusation was made "for political purposes" remained the only statement from him.

UNRRA Calls Upon Russia, Argentina

Atlantic City, N. J., March 28—(AP)—British minister of state Philip Noel-Baker today called upon Soviet Russia and the Argentine, "with one of the great untapped reserves" of food, to contribute to UNRRA's work of preventing mass starvation.

He told delegates from UNRRA's 48 member nations here that Britain "rejoiced" at the report Russia was planning to sell France 500,000 tons of grain. Then he suggested that the Soviet use its food surpluses to help feed neighboring countries to increase harmony in that area.

The council agreed, after an argument between Russia and the United States, to continue aid to displaced persons. The organization's officials estimated that there would be approximately 500,000 remaining of those unwilling or unable to return home by early fall.

A move to make Eleanor Roosevelt head of an international organization to handle problems of political exiles and refugees gathered force among delegates.

Trouble

New York, March 28—(AP)—Aurora Borealis, which has been troubling communications facilities periodically for three weeks, struck with renewed force early today, causing one of the most severe interruptions since it began acting up.

Both radio communications and news circuits which operate over land were affected by the new outbreak which started at 4 a. m. (CST) today.

The Mackay Radio & Telegraph Company Inc., said its radio signals between the United States and Europe were on an "up and down" basis which prevented normal service. Some service was maintained, however.

Science Doubts Atom Could Explode Pacific

St. Louis, March 28—(AP)—The question of whether the Pacific Ocean, or a large portion of it, might explode if an atomic bomb is set off in the Bikini atoll area this summer in navy tests was discussed privately today by scientists attending the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The conclusion was that the chain reaction of water exploding might start, but that it will not continue, and probably will not even add visibly to the violence of the underwater bomb explosion. The discussions were based on Washington reports that a second atomic explosion might be under the water instead of on the surface as originally planned.

There have been published reports that an explosion under water would change the water into hydrogen and oxygen, and that it would start a chain reaction in which the explosion would spread in the water itself.

OPA Restores One Wartime Meat Control and Dusts Off Another

Washington, March 28—(AP)—With restoration of one wartime meat control already ordered, OPA today dusted off another it may use against black market dealing in cattle.

A price agency official who withheld use of his name said the government is prepared to re-institute more drastic slaughtering regulations if the measure which goes into effect next Monday does not turn the trick.

These, he said, would limit to a certain base period figure the number of animals a non-federal

Canadians Jail Rose to Await Spy Hearing

Montreal, March 28—(AP)—Fred Rose, a Communist and a member of parliament, was committed for trial today on charges of imparting official secrets to Soviet Russia, and was ordered to prison. His $10,000 bail was cancelled.

The parliament member was ordered to prison and "to be kept there until delivered according to law."

Rose's lawyer, Joseph Cohen, offered no defense at today's appearance before Judge Rene Therberge, declaring "we reserve our defense for the trial."

At a preliminary hearing this week, Judge Therberge had found a prima facie case had been made against Rose, and according to Canadian law, had ordered him to appear today for a voluntary statement before committing him to trial.

Book, Published in 1846, Century Ago, Told of Dixonland

Making the best security I could, by placing the bedstead against the door, I prepared to retire.

The room was excessively warm, and had a stench which rendered it intolerable except the window were thrown wide open. The bed itself would have been pronounced soiled by a jury of Irish landlords; I resolved, however, to make the best of the necessity which held me there, and addressed myself to rest with an earnestness which was well rewarded by seven hours of uninterrupted oblivion.

In the morning I learned that the good spirits had sent to my relief an excellent old New England farmer, who resided some miles below the place to which I was bound. He was in a tidy farm wagon, carpeted with an abundance of new mown hay, drawn by a pair of fleet horses, and more than all he was an intelligent, honest, highminded man, and a pleasant companion on the ride, which proved to be but twelve miles.

Before I saw him, however, the landlord informed me that he had made the necessary arrangements and paid the charge, one dollar and fifty cents. He remarked that it was reasonable, though more than he should have charged for that distance, if he had been going alone, and directly past the place. I paid it, together with his own bill, which was about the same as one pays at the Astor House for the same length of time, and told me that I never paid money more freely for any purpose than for leaving his house; that I presumed, in fixing his first charge he had a just appreciation of my condition, and of the reason which any person would pay to be released from it; and that, considering the relief which I should purchase by it, it was a very moderate sum.

Some remarks from my companion, on the way down, led me to inquire what he had received for my fare, and on his mentioning half the sum which I paid, I remarked that the fellow succeeded in robbing me of seventy-five cents at last!

"Only that!" said he, "you may consider yourself very fortunate, that is a small sum for him to let any stranger escape for," he added, by way of vindicating himself, that if he had known it was a stranger whom he was to convey, he should have refused any compensation, but that the miscreant represented me as a woman belonging to the house, whose fare he was to pay, and, continued the indignant old gentleman, "I considered any price too low to induce me to take one of the gang into my wagon, but it is not safe to come to any open quarrel with them, so I told them I would take you for seventy-five cents!"

I hope the beautiful country has been purged of such a population before this. It was apprehended that the town would at some time be made the theater of such a scene as was enacted at a Vicksburg. I rejoiced heartily to escape from it, and still more to reach the hospitable and pleasant abode of my friend, Mrs. F.

New Field of Opportunity

We shall follow with interest the $250,000 libel suit brought by Lt.-Col. John Toscani of New York against Frank Hersey, author of "A Bell for Adano." Hersey's publisher, and those who converted the book into a hit movie and play.
For if Colonel Toscani wins, it may develop that he has opened up a new and highly lucrative field of endeavor.During the war Toscani was situated in Licia, Sicily, as senior civil affairs officer. Mr. Hersey, who visited him there for a week, tells in his book of a "Major Joppello," who was senior civil affairs officer in the fictitious town.
Mr. Hersey's hero had, as we recall, a brief, mild, platonic, and highly honorable affair of the heart with an Italian girl named Tina. Colonel Toscani emphatically implies that he had no affair of the heart with a girl named Tina or anyone else, and states that his wife is "emotionally upset" at the book's reference to the major's friendship with Tina.Major Joppello secured a bell for Adano's city hall. Colonel Toscani doesn't say anything about getting a bell for Licia. As a matter of fact, neither he nor Licia is mentioned or referred to in the book.You can see how it will be if the colonel wins. Say an author writes a novel about a bank teller in the fictitious town of East Wallop, Ind., who embezzles $80,000, runs off with the assistant cashier's wife, is deserted by her, spends the money, takes to drink and winds up a remorseful bum.A bank teller in East St. Louis, Ill., promptly sues for $100,000.
His books are in perfect order. He is a church-goer and a family man of spotless moral character who never touches a drop. He collects $25,873.18.

No Plan for Palestine

The British government seems to have rejected the plan American engineers suggested for settling the long-unsolved Palestinian dispute by the development of irrigation and water power. The British attitude is reported to be that the required money could be spent better elsewhere, and that the Arab-Jewish quarrel creates a bad atmosphere for the proposal.This seems a rather lame dismissal of a plausible suggestion.
There are, of course, reasons for the violent disagreements in Palestine other than the ability of the land to support a greatly increased population. But if the land could be returned to fruitful abundance, a way might be opened for settlement of the political and religious disputes.

In Old Testament times Palestine blossomed like the rose. Neglect and erosion brought it to its present barren state. American engineers who have studied the country believe that, through terracing and irrigation, the desert

could be made to bloom again.
They point to the fact that Zionist settlers have already made a good start in that direction.It seems a pity if the British,
confronted with an apparently insoluble situation, are ready to give up on a sensible and hopeful scheme without even a try.NEWS BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLONWashington—The firmer hand of Truman has brought some success—the first success—in handling differences with Russia. It has wrought "the graceful retreat" (congressmen privately call it that) of Russian troops from Iran, but not of Russia. Moscow could not stand facing the issue in UNO.
Nor would she dare to bear the burden of responsibility for veto there. Instead she is promising again to withdraw her troops, say in six weeks, leaving behind some seeds of revolution which she may now well nurture to gain her point in the end, namely, control of that nation.The atomic bomb tests which, singularly, were to be held in about six weeks, have similarly been postponed until diplomatic affairs can quiet down—around July 1.
The official excuse offered for the delay is not convincing. True enough, from fifty to a hundred congressmen had indicated their intention of leaving for the test and Truman's press secretary has explained he did not wish congress weakened for so long a time as the trip would require. But the congressmen could have been kept here without postponing the tests.They could fly out and back without the loss of much time.
This rather obvious deduction has encouraged credence in the private, unofficial explanation that Truman did not wish such a display of our secret at a time when diplomatic matters are in such a turmoil. Russia will attend, and the activities of Soviet spies as exposed in Canada (and not exposed here) have caused some congressmen to suspect the postponement was due to fear we might lose the secret. Such fears are unwarranted. It will remain well guarded. I hear the only interest of the defense agencies in the postponement was that some of their under-water equipment would not be ready May 15th.The Stalin letter to the AP correspondent in Moscow received approbation here which was reserved. Truman said he knew all along of Stalin's desire for peace and faith in UNO, indicating he had heard from Stalin at Potsdam the same story the AP got.
Yet, since then, few Soviet actions corresponded with this declaration of intent. Some authorities here try to explain this by saying Stalin is a moderate, and that Molotov, Vishinski, Sukov andtime blossomed like the rose. Neglect and erosion brought it to its
engineers who have studied the
country believe that, through ter-
racing and irrigation, the desert
could be made to bloom again.
They point to the fact that Zionist settlers have already made a good start in that direction.It seems a pity if the British,
confronted with an apparently in-
soluble situation, are ready to give
up on a sensible and hopeful scheme without even a try.others are responsible for the aggressions. I do not believe this.The point-in-point in each of these three recent matters is the same. They all represent favorable progress but are conspicuously inconclusive. They do not mean war is inevitable or likely.
As one reader aptly puts it: "We have seen no bear, but we have seen bear tracks and our dogs have smelled bear." They exhibit simply the nature of the diplomatic game which is continuing and must be pursued with as much alertness and shrewdness as has been evident the past three weeks, if future success is to follow. Eternal vigilance is the price of peace.The most noteworthy prevailing defect in our position is the confused interpretation of events made by some of our own people.
The psychology of Communism has been far more effective among us than the political movement.
You can see its ramifications in the interpretations of news by certain people always from the Russian standpoint. Chicago's Dr.
Hutchins excuses Russia by imagining we would do likewise if in her shoes. He does not imagine what Russia. If in our shoes, would do about Russian aggressions. Objective thinking is absent. Columbia's eminent Dr. Butler is quoted as saying the differences between Russia and the United States are chiefly one of language. His quotes are oblivious of ideological differences between totalitarianism and democracy. What makes these normally great thinking men think so shallow and wrong on this subject?If we are to stabilize diplomacy, and the peace, our detection of the spies of the mind in our midst must be improved. We must espouse clarity and objectivity.There will be another crisis along in a minute—probably Turkey or Iraq.

will be as much too big for Nina as Colin's things will be too small for Jock."SHE returned to the living room, and found Colin making up the studio couches in the alcove into beds. "Maybe we should have a bigger house, Ann," Colin said.
"Who wants guests?" Ann replied ungraciously."Feel that way about it?"
"Definitely."Later, when they were in bed, Ann put her hands up over her head, and clutched a lock of Colin's hair. "Colin—" she said softly."Um huh?" He reached up and held both her hands."With me? I have something to say to you, and I can't shout it—" She moved over against the wall and made room for him beside her.Then with his arms around her, she merely sighed a little, and presently murmured, "Love me?""My dear—" Colin's voice was warm with emotion."Then—" she hesitated again, then came out with it all at once —"Colin, let's have a baby.""I'm sorry I've begun to bore you so soon," Colin said rather stiffly.Ann silently cursed Colin's infallible memory, and her own heavy assurance of a time so far back. "Damn and blast," she said heatedly, if inaudibly."I rather thought you might like to have a child, Colin," Ann said a little wistfully."I don't want anything for you that you don't want for yourself, Ann," Colin pointed out. "You need feel under no obligation to provide me with a child, just because I might like to have one.
You don't owe me anything, you know.""This is a nice emotional discussion, isn't it?" Ann said thoughtfully. "Damn it, Colin—didn't it ever occur to you that I might want to have a baby—your baby, Colin?"Colin laughed softly, and his arms tightened convulsively. "It didn't, Ann—it didn't. But it's very nice to know!"

American Tax Bill
37 Times Larger Than Total in 1902Articles Describe Jump From Teddy Roosevelt to New DealFrom Roosevelt to Roosevelt, the American tax bill for federal, state and local government skyrocketed from total taxes of $1-367,000,000, in 1902 to $52,185-000,000 in 1944, according to new articles prepared for the 1946 printing of the Encyclopedia Britannica.The articles on taxation were written by Walter W. Heller, assistant to the director of Tax Research, U. S. Department of the Treasury, and by Dr. Mabel Newcomer, professor of economics at Yassar college.This rise, through two wars and seven presidential careers, means Americans are paying their various governmental bodies more than 37 times as much taxes today as they did at the beginning of the century.During that time the state and local government tax bill went up from $861,000,000 to $10,067-000,000, almost a twelve-fold increase, the Britannica figures show, while federal taxes, going from $26,000,000 in 1902 to $42-128,000,000 in 1944 went up 80 times their Theodore Roosevelt total.As late as 1941 state and local taxes combined exceeded those of the federal government, but the financial demands of World war II quickly altered that ratio.Taxes levied by all the individual 48 states in 1941 totalled $4-499,000,000, slightly less than the $4,606,000,000 raised by lower governmental bodies. In that year the federal government collected $7,818,000,000, or about 46 per cent of the total 1941 tax bill, which was $16,923,000,000.These figures alone were $3-235,000,000 higher than the total 1939 taxes, levied before Hitler's armies marched into Poland. During the course of the second World war state and local government taxes were multiplied almost eight times. The 1939 and 1944 federal government taxes were respectively $3,480,000,000 and $42-128,000,000.

Britain, Canada Follow

The United States' policy of deficit spending, utilized in World war I and resumed under the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, presaged similar methods of war financing utilized by Great Britain and Canada, another section of the Britannica tax articles points out. In 1939 the United States collected in taxes only 57 per cent of its actual expenditures while Canada collected in taxes 83 per cent of its expenses, and England remained completely in the black by collecting 120 per cent of its expenditures in taxes.But by 1944 the United States' ratio of tax collections to expenditures was 43 per cent while Canada's was 49 per cent and Britain's 53 per cent. Per capita total taxes, state and local, in the United States in 1944 were $380. Canada collected $263 and Great Britain $294 in the same year.

Comparison Not Easy

However, as the Britannica article points out, "Valid international tax comparisons are notoriously difficult to make and no measuring rod thus far developed avoids all pitfalls. Countries differ markedly in standards of living, purchasing power of money, distribution of income and subjective burdens depend in part on how fast taxes have been increased.From 1939 to 1944 the British tax increased about three times, the Canadian tax approximately three and one-third times, and the United States' combined federal and local taxes almost four times.

liner, March 28.—The edition of a Paris newspaper I bought just before boarding this plane for New York is splashing headlines which I placed before some hermit not familiar with recent events likely to impel him to the belief that relations among the major powers had gone to the dogs.There is Russia's initial setback in the UNO Security Council over the Iranian question after a battle royal. France backed by Moscow, is insisting that America and Britain take decisive action to unseat Generalissimo Franco's Spanish regime. Lt. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, en route to Moscow to take up his duties as American ambassador, said in Germany he is going to tell Prime Minister Stalin that the people of the United States want reassurance of the Soviet Union's motives. Just to show that this cuts both ways, the Moscow radio the other day said Russia wanted reassurance about the motives of the western allies.Finally, my front page reports that over Russian opposition the United States has won UNRRA approval of a mandate to prevent occupying armies from living off the land they conquered. A specific case in hand is the Soviet occupation of Austrian food areas which are needed to feed the people of that country.There are a lot of other items, but they all add up to the same thing. The big three nations finally have arrived at the time when a showdown on numerous vital questions is being called for.That's the best news I've encountered since starting my European tour in November for the uncertainties growing out of the unsettled differences between Russia, Britain and America have had a highly disturbing influence.
It is the situation which has had much to do with creating the belief that another global conflict is inevitable—an idea which I have heard advanced repeatedly in many places on the continent.This column reported a couple of days ago that competent observers in Europe were seeking encouragement from a more positive stand developed recently by the big three in their attitude towards one another. The increasing firmness and tendency to iron out knotty problems were taken as a good sign for peace.
In this sense the current headlines in my newspaper are bearers of good tidings. Aprosops of that thought Winston Churchill would seem to have given us backhanded support in a press conference. He is quoted as saying when asked if he thought the time had come for plan speaking, that he would not contradict this.

INDIGNATIONThis letter was sent to Upton Close:I spent three years in the United States Navy as a WAVE. My husband and brother are still in the armed forces. In view of these facts my next statement will sound strange. I say in all sincerity that if America is responsible for the mob violence I witnessed today, then I am sorry for the three years of service I gave willingly.I, along with many other servicemen and women, can't understand the labor situation. I couldn't strike when I didn't like conditions — my brother can't strike — and I certainly wouldn't call his salary a living wage. I am quite sure that he isn't satisfied. If people want to belong to a union, all well and good. This is a free country — or I should say was. Why should other people who are quite contented as they are, be forced to join a union?Why shouldn't a small businessman be permitted to hire whom he wishes and pay as much or as little or his employees are willing to work for? If it is free for a man to strike, it should be just as free for him to hold true to his beliefs and work, if he doesn't believe in the strike. But it isn't that way. He is branded "scab" and molested verbally and physically.I am but a girl, and physically unable to match my strength against that of a man — but I have a brother and a husband who share my feelings on this subject.
When a man can curse me because I want to buy shoes in a store that is having labor troubles — when a group of people can physically stop me from sending so small a thing as a telegram — then it is time for action from true Americans!I wish there was some way I could tell all those strikers that they may be winning now — because a great number of our youngAmericans are still in uniform in foreign countries, safeguarding the liberty with which these vermin are slapping our faces. The worm will turn — as all worms do — and then beware — for our men and women have fought four long years for a word — Freedom!We have just cleaned up the scum of the world — now we shall clean out the communist vermin from America. Our motto is:
"Give America back to the Americans." If you don't like our country, we will pay your passage back, and gladly supply the kick in the right place. (Name withheld)State Sheep Raiser's Wool to Indiana CoopChicago, March 28.—(AP)—Illinois sheep raisers will sell their wool in Indianapolis instead of Boston under an agreement announced today between the Illinois Wool Growers Association, a Farm Bureau cooperative, and a similar organization in Indiana.The Illinois association said dealing with a nearby market will result in speedier appraisal and earlier price settlements.Dixon Council of Religious School
Classes at MeetThe Dixon Council of Christian Education was represented at the weekday Religious Education Conference for northern Illinois, held at Princeton, Tuesday, by the Rev.
G. J. Curran, chairman of the local committee; Miss Erna Hoelzen, director of instruction; Vernon G. Mays, president and the Rev. B. B. Cartwright, vice-president.The meeting was sponsored by the Illinois Church Council with Dr. C. W. Longman of Springfield as chairman, and discussion and resource leaders of the state and nation assisting. Like meetings were scheduled at Decatur on Wednesday and at Mt. Vernon, Thursday.The weekday religious education in connection with public schools within "released time" originated in the Gary, Ind. system in 1913 and had an enrollment of 619 in 1914. The superintendent, Dr. Wm. Wert, was given free rein by the Board to develop as complete education of the child as possible. His innovations toward that goal drew nation-wide attention. He believed that character foundation is one of the responsibilities of our educational system, so arranged to "release the time" of pupils within the school week for their religious instruction in the church of their choice. The movement has spread until now it has been organized in every state of our nation, except New Hampshire and North Dakota. It is not sectarian, but has the support of the Jews, the Roman Catholics and nearly all the Protestant churches. In the Princeton schools, it has been in operation within the elementary grades, 3 to 8, for twenty years, and in the high school for five years, and given one-fourth credit each year toward the sixteen required for graduation. It is not planned to relieve parents and their respective churches of responsibility for character building, but to assist by recognizing its essential value in development of good citizens.The mark of the illiterate in place of a signature, the X, is actually a hangover of the ancient sign of the Holy Cross which Christians put beside their signatures as an oath of good faith.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Ben Ryder and the WanderlustDuring the war, Ben Ryder talked about the trips he'd take when gasoline rationing was ended. Used to pore over roadmaps — checking mileages and charting routes.Now Ben's taking quite a lot of ribbing. Soon as rationing was lifted, he decided he liked staying home, putting in the garden, playing chess, sharing a pleasant glass of beer with friends."Shucks," admits Ben sheepishly, "as soon as you can go, then it's just as good as having gone!"You might as well stay home... enjoy your friends and family."From where I sit, that's a pretty common trait in human nature.Take that glass of beer, for instance. During Prohibition, Ben was nursing an insatiable thirst.
But come repeal, Ben suddenly finds he's happy with a friendly, moderate glass of beer — and nothing more. Yep — just tell folks the sky's the limit, and they'll settle for a piece of friendly earth.

Holiday

Kansas City—(AP)—John A. Marshall was surprised to see neighbor William N. Deramus, president of the Kansas City Southern Railway, boarding a miniature Swope Park train.

Deramus hurriedly explained he was accompanying his two-year-old grandson. When he completed his ride, the railroad executive reported:

"I would say the line's roadbed is in good condition, it's rolling stock well handled, and I hear its financial statements are more than satisfactory."

By FRIDAY

Sunnybrook swept three games from the Dixon Cut Sole last night to take a three-game lead in the Classic league with 53 wins and 21 losses. John Smith's 626 topped Sunnybrook and Leroy Nelson led the Shoemen with 496.

Myers Royal Blue rolled into a tie with Hill Bros. for third with 45-39, by winning three from Boynton-Richards, dropping the latter from the first-place tie into second with 50-34. John Lange's 518 led the Grocers and Joe Miller topped the Clothiers with 546.

The Stables held Hill Bros. to the third-place tie by taking them two out of three, the Stables taking seventh with 43-41. Orin Lovin was high for the Stables and Choppy Rosbrook led the Grocers with 511.

Harmon won two from James Billiards, holding the latter to a tie with Potts Market for fifth with 44-40. Orville Hopkins led Harmon with 549 and Ev Thurm's 581 topped the James Boys.

Potts Market gained their share of fifth by winning two from the Hunter Co. Oscar Witzel topped the Butchers with 504 and John Shaulis was high for the Lumbermen with 580.

Shell Service won two from the Chauffeurs Local to hold the latter to eighth with 42-42. Frank Keane's 512 was high for the Oilmen and Frank Lessner led the Chauffeurs with 532.

Reynolds Wire won two from H. A. Roe Co. with 45-39. Fordham high for the Wiremen with 524 and John Roe leading the Harcos with 525.

Nachusa was the other two-game winner over United Cigars with Clell Weidman's 543 high for Nachusa and Fernie Koehler leading United with 529.

John Smith had the high series of the night with 626 and high games were Jacobs 209, Hopkins 210, Duffy 229, Thurm 215-200, Clanan 201, Teer 213-200, Austin 201, Shaulis 211, John Smith 220-211, Lessner 201, Edwards 209, C. Weidman 220, Koehler 240.

Although Sunnybrook and Boynton-Richards are carrying the scrap for first, five games ahead of the third placers, from the third spot with 45-39 ten teams are grouped within five games. United Cigar and Harmon being tied for eleventh with 44-44. This is one of the closest finishes in the history of the Classic loop, with the final positions for the ten teams grouped from third through the twelfth positions being undecided until the final night.

Dr. Lazier was the most consistent bowler in the night with 147-145-146. Hermie Koehler had the biggest spread between his count of 124 in the second to which he added 116 pins for a 240 third set. . . 626 must be for Smith's favorite number but only he rolled that last night it was the third time this season for the same count. . . The Bowling Proprietors Association, the members of which sponsor the Traveling league five are treating their members to a banquet at the Oregon, including a handicap singles, followed by entertainment and dinner at the Oregon Country club. . . A week from next Sunday, April 7, is the final day for this fast league and the locals will be out to take all three sets from the Sterlingites for a tie in this scratch loop.

1946 Washington Senators Show Great Improvement Over Second Place Squad of Previous Season

By HARRY GRAYSON

Orlando, Fla., March 29—(NEA)—Those picking the Yankees and Red Sox to run one-two in the American League, with the Tigers a threat because of pitching and power, had best take another look at this Washington edition.

The Senators are vastly improved over the outfit which was beaten on the final day of last season under distressing circumstances.

The Nationals' pitching has strength and depth. Ossie Bluege could have 12 of starting caliber. The catching is good, the infield adequate, the outfield well stocked, and there is sufficient punch to go around.

Heading the chukkers is Roger Wolff, who bagged 20 last trip with an earned-run mark of 2.12. The other right-handed knuckle ball ace is Dutch Leonard, who copped 17 with an ERA of 2.13. Back from the war are Sid Hudson, Walter Masterson, Vernon Curtis, Rae Scarborough and Max Wilson, a five-foot-six-inch left-hander with control whom Admiral Nimitz took from the Norfolk Naval Training Center last summer to help the Navy win the service World Series in Honolulu.

Curtis and Scarborough are curve-ball pitchers reminiscent of Leon Cadore or any other pitcher breaking the ball as though it were rolling off the end of a table. Southpaw Mickey Haefer captured 16 in 1945, and Wilfrid Lefebvre the Holy Cross alumnus who was converted from a first baseman and outfielder, give the array still another portside as well as an extraordinary pinch-hitter.

Old John Niggeling, who gives the Nats a third variance of the knuckle ball, recovered from his stomach operation of last fall, is eating steak for the first time in five years.

Marino Pieretti makes up with competitive urge whatever the rather small Italian-born right-hander lacks in physical equipment.

Jake Earl, Al Evans and Fernin Guerra ably back one another up behind the plate.

Joe Kuhel and Mickey Vernon are fighting it out at first base. Neither will hurt the combination.

Cecil Travis and Gerry Priddy are not far behind any pair as a second-base combination. Travis was second in the circuit in batting his last full year with .359. would hit at 10 o'clock at night in the dark.

George Myatt has switched from second to third, where Sherrard Robertson, who has been with Charlotte and around in the Navy, is under somewhat of a handicap because he is the nephew of owner Clark Griffith. Cocky Eddie Lyons, who has been around a few years, is an extra infielder.

The outfield right now is composed of Heath, Spence and Lewis, with Ray Coolsby and Gilbert Coan, remarkable prospects knocking loudly at the door. As unusual as Coan, adjudged the finest recruit in the minors following his batting .372 and stealing 40 bases for a new Southern Association record last year, the consensus is that Coolsby, a right hand line hitter out of the Navy, is the best young player in the Orlando camp.

Old Fox Griffith's attempt to land third baseman Ken Keltner from the Indians gives you an idea of what the well-known skinflicker thinks of his club's chances. The Washington party is sure it could take it all with the Cleveland stylist at the far turn and taking his robust turn at bat.

As a matter of fact, the Nats believe they can win with Myatt at third. Without Myatt as second, the club would not have chased the Tigers until the final day last season.

In the minds of the Nats, George Myatt was the most valuable player in the wheel in 1945. It's nice to have that kind of a bloke at any position.

Pro Cage Teams in Big Battle Friday

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Six midwestern teams and two eastern contenders will compete in the quarter-finals of the world's professional basketball tournament at the Chicago Stadium Friday night.

In first round competition concluded before a crowd of $9,500 last night, the New York Rens, Oshkosh Wis., All Stars, and Baltimore, Md., Bullets emerged winners as the 14-team field was whittled down to eight quarterfinals.

The Rens, Negro team, provided most of the thunder last night as it established a tournament scoring record with an 82-39 victory over Chuck Chuckovits' Toledo, O., entry.

The previous record was 80 points by the Dayton, O., Aces against the Chicago American Gears last year.

In the two other games, the Bullets grabbed a 61-58 victory over the Dayton, O., Miceys, and Oshkosh romped to a 60-32 decision over the Detroit Mansfields.

Friday night's quarter-final pairings send the Rens against Oshkosh; Baltimore against the Anderson, Ind., Chiefs; the Chicago American Gears against the Sheboygan, Wis., Redskins; and the Midland, Mich., Dows against the defending champion Fort Wayne Zollners.

FREE HOSPITALIZATION

Canberra, Australia—(AP)—Patients of all income groups in public hospitals now are receiving free treatment in four Australian States.

Cost is being borne by the commonwealth government by grants to state governments which administer the scheme. Later the scheme will be extended to cover part payment of treatment in private hospitals.

Brisbane is Australia's third largest city, with a population of 350,000.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 28—(AP)—After watching the Oklahoma Aggies take their second straight National Collegiate A. A. basketball title, you find it hard to write about anything or anyone but Bob Kurland . . . You remember Bob when he first played in New York four years ago—a lanky, awkward seven-footer who galloped around the court with his shoulders bowed in an obvious effort to minimize his great height . . . He was only 1. then lacking in co-ordination and skill and painfully embarrassed because of the publicity given his size . . . You remember him the next year as a "goal-tender," heavier, stronger, straighter, planting himself under his team's basket and leaping up to bat away the other team's shots . . . You remember him in last year's playoff game against DePaul when he was guarded by six-foot, nine-inch George Milkan, a polished player. You remember how Bob faked and feinted until Milkan fouled out of the game after only twelve minutes and how Kurland went on to direct and lead his team to victory.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER—Last Tuesday's performance is something you won't forget soon . . . At 21, Kurland still isn't a finished player but he's a good all-around man on the basketball court . . . It wasn't just his height that made him stand out, for Bob's best baskets came on difficult hook shots. He's had pro offers up to $7,500 a season and he's telling the bidders that he'll wait until he's through college before he decides . . . But it was a grand farewell to the fans who have watched him develop . . . If anyone tries to talk about the "evils" of basketball, you can tell him what a good game and a good coach have done for this boy who might have gone through life thinking of himself as a freak.

ONE OF A KIND—Kurland's coach, Henry Iba, mentioned: "Most of the big players won't work hard and stick at it long enough to develop themselves . . . Kurland hasn't done so badly." Hank added. "He's never been hurt or taken out in his four years in college and he's changed the whole game of basketball."

The Aggies, first team to win two N. C. A. A. game titles, were the fourth Oklahoma team to win a national basketball crown this year . . . The Phillips "66" club of Bartlesville won its fourth straight A. A. U. championship . . . Langston university took the Negro national college title and Cushing, Okla., beat Tampa, Fla., for the National Negro high school championship.

Chicago New York to Match Boxing Champs

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—Bob Satterfield, Chicago light heavyweight, who has won 11 of his 13 boxing bouts by knockouts, will meet Johnny Clark of New York in the 10-round main event at a boxing show at the Coliseum tonight. The New Yorker has won 13 of his last 15 matches, three by knockouts.

In an eight-round semi-windup, Booker Beckwith of Gary, Ind., will meet Willie Barrow of Detroit. Four other bouts are on the card.

On the above Fisherman's Calendar the best days for fishing are indicated by a solid black fish, days not so good by a partially black fish, and poor days for fishing by a white fish. This calendar is scientifically compiled, using the moon, the stars, and every known factor that has a bearing on fishing as used by the "Old Timer," as well as the modern Sportsman. Use discretion in selecting your fishing day—do not go when it is too windy, tide against you, or the waters muddy—but select comparatively calm days when the fish shows solid black and you will find this calendar to be surprisingly accurate for both inland and deep sea fishing, and for any waters in or surrounding the United States and Canada.

He displaced a contestant from Ottawa high school. This made Paul eligible to compete in the Sectional contest at Mendota Saturday, March 23.

Honor Basketball Team

Even the weatherman conspired with pupils and teachers to make Thursday afternoon an ideal afternoon to spend at Starved Rock. The pupils, teachers, and Mr. and Mrs. Kae Knauer arrived at the Rock about 3 o'clock. The time was spent in sight-seeing and a climb to the top of the historic rock. Promptly at 6 o'clock the West Brooklyns sat down to the banquet dinner.

After the dinner all repaired to the lodge where the players and cheerleaders were awarded the basketball letters, and the special distinction awards.

The following players were awarded basketball letters: John Gehant, Edward Gehant, Donald Henkel, Clement Myers, Vernon Vincent, Gilbert Haub—2 year players, and Paul Ege, Robert Sheridan, Leroy Haub, Robert Haub, Clarence Vincent—1 year players.

John Gehant was awarded a miniature gold basketball as captain. This was a personal gift from H. W. Loy.

Donald Henkel was awarded a bronze basketball medal as the most sportsman like player; Gilbert Haub, as the most useful player; Paul Ege as the player who proved himself the best sport during the basketball season; Clement Myers received the managers medal, and Miss Kain was recognized as the best booster.

Mr. and Mrs. Knauer were the recipients of a box of candy for their faithful interest and transportation of the team.

Both cheerleaders were awarded full size cheerleader letter, one to Doris Gunn—2 year, and one to Dorothy Auschstetter—1 year.

On Saturday, Mr. Loy with Paul Ege—humorous declamation, Gilbert Haub—original oration and Clement Myers—extempore, with Marian Vincent, a guest pupil, went to Mendota to participate in the State Section Speech contest.

Once again this year, West Brooklyn speech pupils evidenced their superior ability. Paul Ege, just a freshman, won first place and a gold medal in class B school. Clement Myers won first place and a gold medal in class B schools. This makes two gold medals won in speech this year by Paul Ege. Clement Myers won two medals, one second place and one first place award.

Traffic Death Toll Leaps Upward for Nation Last Month

Deaths Show 45 Per Cent Increase; Heavy Toll Seen by Council

Chicago, March 28—(AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in February totaled 2,450, a 45 per cent increase over the same month a year ago and only 7 per cent below the deadliest February in 1941, the National Safety Council said today.

The council said that on the basis of last month's record, it stood pat on its prediction of a near-record toll of 38,000 traffic deaths in 1946—"unless the drivers and pedestrians decide to do something about it". Traffic fatalities in the first two months of 1946 were 5,450, compared to 3,700 for the corresponding period in 1945.

Mileage Up Sharply

Mileage figures for each month were not available, but the council said latest information indicates that January mileage on rural highways increased sharply, even exceeding the pre-war year of 1941 by 7 per cent. The nation's total mileage went up about 30 per cent in January over a year ago.

Of 42 states reporting figures for February, the council said 34 showed increases in fatalities over February, 1945, six reported decreases and two had no change. For the first two months of the year, only three states maintained improved records—Vermont, down 17 per cent; Arizona, 9 per cent, and Maine, 6 per cent.

Last month's reports of 396 cities showed an increase of 17 per cent in traffic deaths. A rise was reported by 101, a decrease by 78 and 217 had no change, which the council said was further evidence that the big increase in the death toll was coming on rural highways.

244 Perfect Marks

There were 244 cities with perfect records during February, the council said, Providence, R. I., with a population of 253,500, was the largest; Syracuse, N. Y., 205,800, population, was second largest, and the third largest was Hartford, Conn., 166,300 population.

Leading cities by registration rate (number of traffic deaths per 10,000 registered vehicles) in various population groups for the two-month period were:

Over 500,000 population—St. Louis 3.8; Buffalo, N. Y., 4.9; Boston, 5.4.

250,000-500,000 population—Providence, R. I., 0-0; Rochester, N. Y., 2.7; Dallas, Tex., 3.1.

Serviceman's Banquet

The Paw Paw Baptist church was the scene for a serviceman's banquet Saturday night, paying tribute to its discharged service men. Due to the inclement weather, several were unable to attend, but a good number were on hand to honor them. The rooms were decorated with patriotic colors and the banquet was enjoyed by candlelight. The meal was prepared and served by the Missionary ladies and their husbands. Roll call was given and as the names of the ex-service men were called out, the following responded: Donald Ambler, Archie Merriman, Irving Ketchum, Chester Gaines, Arthur Shaddick, Elmer Eich, Everett Urish, Irvington Hof, Ray Politsch and Norman Hopkins. The boys were given a grand welcome home in behalf of the entire church, by Mrs. Neyet Rogers, president of the Missionary society and Donald Ambler graciously responded for the veterans. The Girls sextette of the high school then entertained by singing several musical selections which everyone thoroughly enjoyed. The honored guests then took part in the program by representing the part of the world in which they served and telling us much about each as time would allow. Living Ketchum told about the Pacific where he served on Guam, Everett Urish represented India where he was stationed for many months, Wesley Coss told about Italy, over which he flew many missions. It was deeply regretted that Donald Terry was unable to be present to take part in the program. The Girls Sextette were called upon once again to give another rendition of a popular number. All then joined in the singing of "Blest Be The Tie" to complete the entertainment. The group invited as special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Guffin and Mrs. Robert Carter. The Guffins were owners and publishers of the Lee County Times for many years.

Pomona Grange

The Pomona Grange of DeKalb county were guests of the Paw Paw Pomona Grange at the local lodge rooms on Friday evening. It is reported that the largest crowd ever to attend one of these meetings was on hand. There were Granges represented from DeKalb, county, McHenry county and Lee county, and several new members were added to the membership roll at this time. The business meeting was followed by a short program. Charles Merriman sang two solos and his daughter, Mrs. Lyle Potter accompanied him at the piano. A short history of Paw Paw was then given by Charles Merriman. The committee of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ambler and Mr. and Mrs. Oton Haefer served the scramble lunch.

W. S. C. S. Meets

Mrs. Harley Rosenkrans was hostess to the members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church at her home on Wednesday afternoon for the March meeting. A fair number were in attendance and Mrs. William Ramey presided over the business session with Mrs. Raymond Willard having charge of the devotionals. The lesson, taken from the study book, "These Moving Times" was excellently given by Mrs. Gertie Smith. Plans are being made to have a guest speaker at their May meeting and all are looking forward to this. The society will make their usual donation of eggs around Easter time to the Wesley Memorial hospital and to the Lake Bluff orphanage. Anyone wishing to contribute to this worthy cause, should contact the chairman, Mrs. C. J. Poltsch as to the exact date for delivery. After all of the business had been taken care of, a social hour was held with the ladies visiting. The hostesses, Mrs. Mirum Wise, Mrs. Arthur Wells, Mrs. Lillian Hammond, Mrs. Donald Ambler and Mrs. Harley Rosenkrans served delicious refreshments to round out a pleasant afternoon for all.

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood March 25 —(AP)—At a time when more and more movie stars are free-lancing, Lucille Ball says to heck with that business. She's getting tied up to a studio contract again.

"Yes I'm going back to a nice, well-cushioned rut," she told me on the set of "Lover Come Back," "I signed with MGM again. Lucille left the Culver City management when her contract expired several months ago and did some free-lancing. I asked how why she is returning to her old haunt."

"More money for one thing, she admitted. "Besides I don't trust myself. How should I know what's good for me?—I'm only an actress. Many times I have thought that a story is great and then it turns out to be a stinker. I need to have some studio brains to watch out for me."

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Urey returned home Thursday from the East coast where they spent time with Sergeant Major and Mrs. Lowell Urey at their home in Scotia, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nevins were Friday afternoon business callers in Aurora.

"For the first time we can photograph mechanically on a 360-degree operational base," explains sound director James Stewart. "This means screen filming will have a new smoothness and flow." The camera, like the superfortress gunner, will be able to shoot in any direction, he indicated.

Shooting from behind the Plexiglas bubble has additional benefits, said Stewart. "For 'Duel in the Sun,' we photographed a train engine exploding at a distance of only 15 feet from the camera," he said "and the cameraman was perfectly safe."

ADD SHORTAGES. TEXTBOOKS

Newark, N. J. — (AP) — You probably won't hear many students complaining about this, but publishers of school books are so far behind "it will take years" to catch up with the demand.

William W. Livingston of Hillsdale editor-in-chief of a large textbook publishing firm says the reasons are shortage of paper, an increased demand and catching up with the retrenchment years during the depression when schools got along with what books they had.

NOW HE SEES THEM
Regina, Saskatchewan—(AP)—Maurice Reynolds, former Regina radio announcer has his own magic formula for warding off harm. While an RCAF navigator in North Africa, Reynolds relates he and friends went exploring after dark in Dakar. He found himself alone on a street corner with shadowy figures approaching. They vanished when he roared: "Is there anybody here from Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan?"

JOEL LEHMAN

Letter from Italy

A letter has been received from Junior Lehman. Here is a paragraph from his letter:

Sunday we rode all over in a jeep. We went to Naples first and then to Pompeii. That city is 2,000 years old, but they found quite a few ideas of architecture and pleasures that we try to use even today. The old amphitheater is well constructed, almost like a big stadium is today, and there are little stairways leading to the bleachers from all angles. Saw where they used to keep the animals before the fights and all, and it was really interesting. We tried all afternoon to find the road leading to Mt. Vesuvius and about 6:30 we found the right one. It was almost dark when we started climbing by foot. I think it took about an hour to climb by foot, but it was worth it. I think the hole in the top where all the lava is boiling must be 3/4 of a mile in diameter, and it is very deep. The ground that we were standing on was so warm we could feel the heat through our shoes, so you can imagine just how hot that boiling lava is. They have built stone walls all down the sides to hold back the lava in case it erupts again. All the way up the road in the jeep we saw the rock that looked like a thick mush hardened and just as smooth as could be in some places. About half way up we saw a little place in the side smoking and we put our hands there to see if it was smoke or steam, and it was smoke. We didn't leave our hands there very long. By the time we got to the top, Naples and new Pompeii were all lit up, and it looked really beautiful. The harbor of Naples is just about two miles away, too, so that made it even more beautiful.

Publish Two Poems

The typing class is busy at present on the next issue of "The Royal Purple Times," which will be out very soon. The school paper this time will contain two poems, "The Dauntless Nine," and "Harmon Way Back When." The first poem has been written by Marie Malach of Dixon and first gained fame a few weeks ago when the 24th anniversary of Father Murphy's service was celebrated.

Sgt. Harold V. Schaefer, now stationed in China, has re-enlisted for three more years service in the Army.

Miss Hanna Schulte who had a recent operation is improving rapidly. She is staying with her brother in Dixon.

Sgt. Lowell E. Schaefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaefer is now receiving his mail at the following address: Sgt. Lowell E. Schaefer 16121528, 45th Air Repair Squadron, Hanau Air Depot, Hanau, Germany, APO 757.

Mr. and Mrs. Erhart Renken from Buckley, Ill., attended the wedding of Carl Schaefer and Lona Distin of Nelson at the Christian church Sunday, March 24. The Renkens also visited their relatives in Harmon.

The department of public highways, under the direction of Ralph Spielman, did good work cleaning the dirt off the pavement through Harmon. There were several men from Rock Falls working here Thursday with the Dixon crew.

Builds New Barn

Pliny McCarter is going to have a new barn built on his farm. The old barn on the McCarter property in Harmon had been torn down, and the two barns on the farm are going down before long. John Gale and his men are doing the work.

The building by the Considine garage is going up very fast. The Construction service of Normandy is erecting the building.

Tuesday evening, April 2, S. F. Long, a returned war veteran, will show pictures on the South Pacific, especially Guam and Tokyo, at the Harmon high school. The meeting is open to the public.

NEED WALKIE TALKIES

Tauton, Mass.—(AP)—A woman called the order department of a grocery concern with this request: "Will you please look out your front window and see if there is a butter line in front of the butter store?"

Bees can make honey without flowers or pollen. They can get nectar from the base of partridge pea leaves.

MEATY MENUS BACK

New York—(AP)—You can eat much better in Manhattan restaurants now than in the war years, take it from President Paul Henkel of the Society of Restauranters. One place off Times Square a year ago was serving only two meat dishes. Now it offers a dozen.

One reason, says Henkel, is that with shortages not so severe, more people are eating at home. New York's 19,000 public eating places, which served 8,000,000 meals a day much of last year, now serve about 6,000,000 a day.
